

The Languages and Methods of Interdisciplinarity - sharing experiences

2-3 December, 2026
91, avenue de la Libération, 54000 Nancy, France

Wednesday, 2nd December - Room Internationale 324

12.45 welcome & coffee

Introduction (workshop topic, ground rules, presentation formats)

13.15 Claire Crignon (U. de Lorraine)

Research: two-person presentations / feedback from the field

13.45 Justine Falciola (U. de Genève), Alexandre Wenger (U. de Genève) - Evidence and narrative: patient biographies as a process of knowledge construction

14.15 Kristin Zeiler (Linköping U.) - Epistemology and post covid project, across the humanities (philosophy), social sciences (sociology and STS), clinical practice and biomedicine (rehab medicine, neuroradiology, neurobiology)

At stake: highlighting an interdisciplinary concept or issue

14.45 Céline Lefève (Paris Cité U.) - Experience, life, care: some concepts at the crossroads of several sciences

15.15 break

Teaching: two-person presentations / feedback from the field

16.00 Marcos Bote Diaz (U. de Murcia), Isabel Legaz (U. de Murcia) - Managing interdisciplinary graduate programmes in ageing: bridging disciplinary languages and lessons learned

16.30 Isabelle Galichon (CHU & U. de Bordeaux), Véronique Flurin (CHU Bordeaux) - Médecine narrative en pédiatrie – un programme interventionnel interdisciplinaire en médecine narrative dans le cadre du pôle de pédiatrie du CHU de Bordeaux

At stake: highlighting an interdisciplinary concept or issue

17.00 Christian Bonah (U. de Strasbourg) - To write (or at least attempt to write) a history of chronic diseases in the 20th century based on biological data, faithful to historical scholarship and respectful of ethical principles

17.30 Trapps scientific Advisory Board (upon invitation)

08.30 coffee

Plenary talk

09.00 Angeliki Monnier (U. de Lorraine) – Constructing interdisciplinary identities: European research centres in perspective

Students and young researchers: issues and challenges

09.45 Landry Juin (U. de Bordeaux) – To be confirmed

10.00 Julia Tinland (U. Aix-Marseille) – How can we successfully apply field-based methodologies from the social sciences to a more normative or conceptual philosophical analysis? OU How can young researchers go about their work when interdisciplinarity seems to rob us of a sufficiently clear disciplinary foundation?

10.15 Deborah Lucas (Sorbonne U.) – What makes field philosophy philosophical?

10.30 Pénélope Selhausen-Konsinski (U. de Lorraine) – "Unconventional" research

10.45 Jean Salzstein (U. de Lorraine) – Physics and philosophy of science: tensions regarding the conception of plurality

11.00 break

How can we take this further? Comments, thoughts, suggestions

11.30 Florence Caeymaex (U. de Liège)

11.40 Heiner Fangerau (Universitätsklinikum & Heinrich Heine Universität Düsseldorf)

11.50 final discussion

12.30 lunch (upon invitation)

